COACHING EXCELLENCE

Janice Kruger has been named ACC Coach of the Year four times (1990, 1996, 1997 and 2003).

Maryland rebuilds quickly, starts 15-0

Volleyball

By Laura Boswell
USA TODAY

This was supposed to be a rebuilding year.

Maryland, which went 26-5 last year and 16-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, lost some seasoned players and with them the chance to repeat as conference champion or to return to the NCAA women's volleyball tournament.

Or so it appeared.

Daune Koester, 1996 ACC player of the year, graduated. Middle hitter Conya Jabari-Kirwala had a baby in May and was't expected to be back in time for the start of the season. First team all-ACC outside hitter Elizabeth Efron, after playing for the Argentine national team and having reconstructive knee surgery, had no eligibility left.

For experience, Maryland would have to cling to returning all-ACC setter Edeo Kroeger. The Terrapins, picked to finish fourth in the ACC, braced for a long season.

"We were definitely looking at some significant adjustments," coach Patricia Kruger says. "No one really knew how the team would develop this year."

Kroeger, who has 4,541 career assists and cootinues to add to her school record, feels the drive goes deeper. "We have a lot of heart. We don't go into a match thinking we're undefeated. If anything, it makes teams want to beat us even more."

Especially ACC teams. Maryland already has beaten North Carolina, Duke and Florida State.

Some of the real tests are to come, including visits to Clemson and Georgia Tech next weekend.

"We can never relax," says Efron, who has been ACC player of the week twice. "We are always learning about the other teams. What they do, who hits where. We have to be prepared, because everyoee is out to beat us."

Expert at setting up: Eden Kroeger, who has a school-record 4 assists, has led Maryland to a No. 17 ranking and unbeaten sea

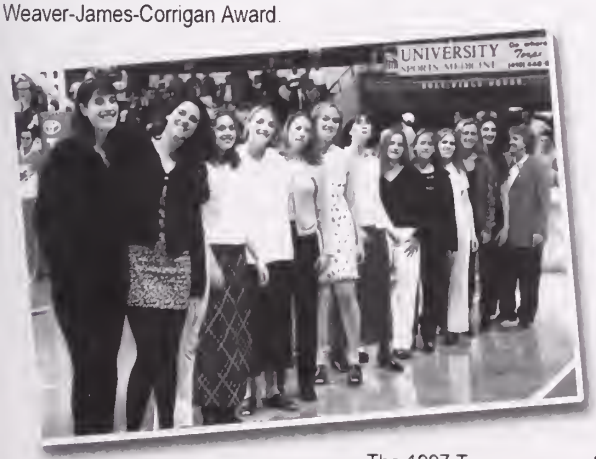
AWARD WINNERS

Setter Eden Kroeger (left) was an All-American and the ACC Player of the Year in 1997, while 2000 graduate Beth Murphy (right) was honored by the ACC with the presitigious Weaver-James-Corrigan Award.



The 1997 Terps are one of only 10 teams in NCAA history to go undefeated in the regular season, posting a 25-0 record.

HOME OF THE TERPS

Maryland's student activities building and home of Terrapin Athletics was completed in fall 2002 and is the home of Maryland volleyball.

In the short time the Terrapins have called Comcast Center Pavilion home, it has already seen its share of historic moments. The Terps updended then-No. 4 Georgia Tech, 3-2, on Nov. 1, 2003 for the biggest upset in program history. And when ACC Champion Maryland earned an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament, Comcast Center was selected as a host site.

The Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly 700 student-athletes on 27 teams. In addition to the 17,950-seat basketball arena, the additional 1,500-seat venue is home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and the Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, news conferences, large meetings and serve as a pregame restaurant suite overlooking the competition floor.

The new arena is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

2005 SEASON OUTLOOK

TERRAPINS LOOK TO BUILD ON BACK-TO-BACK ACC CHAMPIONSHIPS.

In arguably the best consecutive seasons in program history, the 2003 and 2004 Terrapin volleyball teams were crowned champions of the ACC and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Although the last two seasons had stark contrasts, one striking similarity was the way the Terrapins managed to peak at exactly the right time during the conference and national tournaments.

If winning the ACC Tournament can be likened to a four-day sprint, the Terps will now have to perfect the art of a three-month marathon. The Atlantic Coast Conference will not hold a conference tournament in 2005, but will instead crown its champion after a double round robin regular-season schedule.

"The ACC Tournament starts Sept. 20, when we play our first conference match," head coach Janice Kruger said. "The new format will bring a different sense of urgency to our double round robin schedule. Each time players and teams step out on the floor they are playing for the top prize: the ACC championship. As an athlete, it is a great motivator."

Stephanie Smith

Maryland is up to the challenge and can rely on many different facets of the program to help reach its ambitious goals. Kruger, already the ACC's all-time winningest coach, enters her 18th season at the helm of the program and is just three victories away from 700. Adding to the pride of the program is Comcast Center Pavilion - a host site for the 2003 NCAA first and second rounds and already one of the league's most intimidating arenas in just its third season as the home of the Terps.

On top of that, the Terrapins return two of the most dynamic players in the league. Seniors Rachel Wagener and Stephanie Smith, both preseason All-ACC selections, will look for their senior seasons to be their most successful endeavors yet.

"Rachel and Stephanie will bring their experience as four-year starters and as proud owners of two ACC championship rings," Kruger said. "They have the type of leadership that can bring this young team together."

MIDDLE BLOCKER

Since arriving in College Park, Smith and Wagener have been two of the Terps' most important assets. Both have improved with each year in the program and return as one of the most dominant combinations in the league.

Wagener - a two-time second team All-ACC pick, a 2004 honorable mention All-American and AVCA All-Region selection - enters 2005 as the most prolific blocker in Terp history. With one season remaining, the 6-foot-4 Virginia native already holds school records in career blocks (452), career block assists (396), blocks in a season (200 in 2003) and block assists in a season (177 in 2003).

She has also been a nearly unstoppable offensive force at the net, as she has a career attack percentage of .323 and registered nearly three blocks per game in 2004.

Smith, meanwhile, has also been a force on both sides of the net during her career. She is right behind Wagener on the all-time charts and led the team in every blocking category last season.

Also a strong offensive threat in the middle, Smith averaged more than two kills per game and reached double figures in the kills category 15 times.

The duo obviously has the talent to make 2005 a memorable season, but will also be called upon to demonstrate the senior leadership the Terrapins have become known for.

"They will be expected to lead this year's young team by doing just what they have done the past two seasons," Kruger said. "Rachel and Steph's challenge will be in how they will lead this team toward capturing a third consecutive title - both have demonstrated and played with strong confidence and determination."

Newcomer Meredith Doyle should provide a solid backup to Smith and Wagener. At 6-5, Doyle's size and agility will be a constant threat to opposing teams. Coming from Langley High School in McLean, Va., Doyle was her school's record-holder for career blocks and was named Liberty District's Most Valuable Player.

Rachel Wagener

Also joining the Terps in the middle is freshman Kathleen Wilson. Hailing from Michigan, Wilson was an all-region and all-county selection at Marian High School in Bloomfield Hills.

OUTSIDE HITTER

The Terps return experience at the outside hitter position, but will also have to cope with significant losses to graduation. An ACC All-Freshman selection in 2004, Jade Brown will be called upon much more during her sophomore season. She showed flashes of offensive brilliance a season ago, and will look to continue to become a complete player as her career progresses. An exceptional athlete with explosive energy, Brown posted more than 200 kills in her debut season.

"I saw Jade really develop as an outside hitter in the spring. Her overall confidence has gotten better and she is absolutely a phenomenal athlete who plays with such grace," Kruger said.

Also part of the outside hitter rotation, seniors Stephanie Doiron and Rachel Moore will be relied on for more offensive contributions. Both saw time at defensive specialist and in the back row last year, and their versatility will be a key component of the Terps' success. Beth Gillming, who saw extensive playing time at libero a season ago, will also be competing for action as an outside hitter, along with former prep teammate and newcomer Maggie Schmelzle. Both Cincinnati natives are products of perennial prep powerhouse St. Ursula Academy, and the 6-1 Schmelzle will look to help fill the void left by the graduating senior class, which included ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player Sarah Treadwell, Jennifer Dewalt and Maria DiLivio.

Sophomore Tina Aramburu and redshirt freshman Mary Beth Brown, meanwhile, will step in on the right side. Each made strides after redshirt seasons and will look to gain match experience.

DEFENSIVE SPECIALIST

The libero position was a question mark for the Terrapins last season, as several players got a chance to make the position their own. In the end, it was then-freshman Beth Gillming who emerged as one of the top defensive players in the league.

She capped her debut season with a record-breaking performance at the ACC Tournament, where she posted 87 digs over four matches to set a new tournament record.

The only freshman to play in all 33 matches a season ago, Gillming will use that experience as she enters her sophomore season. A smart player with seemingly endless energy, the Terps will expect more of the same from her.

Doiron and Moore could also figure into the defensive specialist position, as both possess the versatility to see time in different roles.

Also in the mix for the libero position will be newcomer Allison Way, a local product out of Washington, D.C.

SETTER

The Terps have two talented prospects at setter for 2005. With the graduation of honorable mention All-American Aimee Huddleston, Teryn Papp and Tedi Doucet will look to share setting responsibilities in 2005.

As a steady backup to Huddleston for the past two seasons, Papp has seen action in critical games the past two seasons, including two NCAA Tournaments.

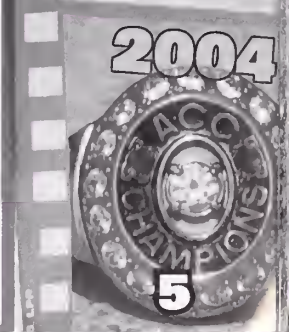
Freshman Tedi Doucet, hailing from Austin, Texas, is also in the mix for the position. A confident setter with all-around skills, she will look to make the transition from high school to collegiate volleyball.

SCHEDULE

The Terps open their season with the Courtyard by Marriott Ft. Meade Invitational at Comcast Center Pavilion on Labor Day Weekend. Marshall, Rutgers and Texas-Arlington will travel to College Park for the season-opening tourney.

Following those three home matches, the Terps hit the road for consecutive weekends with tournaments at Pittsburgh and Fordham.

After those non-conference tilts, Maryland will enter the long stretch of 22 conference matches beginning on Sept. 20, when it hosts ACC newcomer Boston College. Two matches against each league team will be played until Thanksgiving weekend, when the regular season wraps up with a road trip to NC State and North Carolina.



HEAD COACH JANICE KRUGER

18TH SEASON AT MARYLAND
28TH SEASON OVERALL
NEBRASKA '77

After 17 seasons as the head coach of Maryland volleyball, Janice Kruger's accomplishments speak for themselves: four ACC titles, six trips to the NCAA Tournament, four ACC and AVCA Region Coach of the Year honors and the top spot among all-time winningest coaches in ACC volleyball history.

Moreover, the last two years in College Park have arguably been the best in program history. In 2004, the Terrapins won their second consecutive ACC Championship and secured a place in the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year. After advancing to the second round, Kruger's squad put up a valiant effort against host and No. 2-seed Penn State before falling in a close match.

A year earlier, Kruger was the Atlantic Coast Conference and AVCA East Region Coach of the Year after leading Maryland to the 2003 ACC Championship. She became the ACC's all-time winningest coach that year and now, heading into the 2005 season, ranks first in conference history with 322 victories at Maryland.

After nearly two decades as one of the top coaches in the ACC, Kruger is set to embark on her 18th season as head coach of the Terrapins and will likely coach this year's team to her 700th career victory, as she needs just three wins for the milestone. Kruger has built a powerful program in College Park that includes ACC titles in 1990, 1996, 2003 and 2004 and trips to the NCAA Tournament in 1990, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003 and 2004. Kruger's success has not gone without notice, as she has been named both the ACC and AVCA District/Region Coach of the Year in 1990, 1996, 1997 and 2003. During her coaching career, Kruger has amassed an amazing 697-318-6 mark, including a stellar 322-213 record in College Park.

With an impressive track record at both Maryland and her previous school, Nebraska-Omaha, Kruger is considered one of the elite coaches in the country. She ranks seventh all-time among current coaches in victories as a four-year college head coach with 674.

Milestones have been a big part of Kruger's tenure at Maryland, especially over the past few years. In 2003, Kruger earned her 300th victory at Maryland with a 3-2 win at Florida State on November 14. In 2002, Kruger guided the Terps to an 11-0 start, the longest win streak to begin a season in Maryland history. In 2001, she led Maryland to its 700th win as a volleyball program on Oct. 7 in a 3-1 victory over NC State at Ritchie Coliseum. In 32 seasons of volleyball at Maryland, just two coaches, Kruger and Barb Drum, have guided the Terps to a remarkable record of 779-439 (.640 winning percentage.)

In 1996, Kruger's Terps became the first ACC team to finish a conference schedule 16-0. Maryland closed that magical season by winning the ACC title for the first time in six years. One year later, Kruger led Maryland to an even more impressive feat, as the Terps completed the 1997 regular season with an overall record of 25-0. In the process, Maryland became just the eighth team in the nation to roll through a regular season without a defeat. The Terps finished that historic year by reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive year.

Under Kruger's guidance, many players have flourished in the Maryland program. In 1997, Eden Kroeger became the first Terp to earn All-America honors. That same year, Kroeger also became the third player during Kruger's tenure to earn ACC Player of the Year honors (Colleen Hurley in 1990 and Daune Koester in 1992 are the others).

In 2003, three Terrapins garnered All-ACC honors (Aimee Huddleston, first team; Lynnsy Jones, second team; Rachel Wagener, second team). Huddleston and Jones were also honored as AVCA All-Region selections and honorable mention AVCA All-Americans.

Last season also brought accolades to Kruger's players. Wagener was again selected to the ACC's second team and was an AVCA honorable mention All-America as well as All-Region selection.

Since Kruger came to Maryland in 1988, the Terps have had 23 All-ACC selections and 15 All-District/Region selections.

What has made Kruger's program at Maryland all the more impressive is the emphasis put on academic excellence. Since 1988, nearly 50 players have been named to the ACC Honor Roll at least once during their careers at Maryland, including ACC Players of the Year Hurley, Koester and Kroeger. A Maryland volleyball player has received the prestigious Weaver-James-Corrigan Scholar-Athlete Award from the Atlantic Coast Conference four times. Shannon Saltzman earned the award in 1997, Eden Kroeger was honored in 1998, Beth Murphy earned the impressive award in 1999 and Kathy Shahrokh most recently won it in 2004. On the national level, Kroeger and Nicole Lantagne (1995) have earned Co-SIDA Academic All-America honors while Saltzman has been named both a USA All-America Scholar and a Collegiate All-America Scholar.

Prior to her arrival at Maryland, Kruger was the head coach at Nebraska-Omaha from 1979-87. In her nine seasons, she attained a sparkling record of 352-96-6 (.783) and led her squad to NCAA Division II Final Four appearances in 1983, 1985, 1986 and 1987, as well as five consecutive North Central Conference championships from 1983-87. Twice during her career at Nebraska-Omaha, Kruger was named the AVCA Division II National Coach of the Year (1983 and 1986).

In 1978, Kruger took over as head coach at Platte Technical Community College in Columbus, Neb., where she led her team to a 23-9 record and a spot in the national junior college tournament. One year later, she became the head coach at Nebraska-Omaha.

Kruger earned her bachelor's degree in 1977 from the University of Nebraska, where she was a four-year letterwinner and captain of the Husker volleyball team. The following year, she earned her master's degree in athletic administration from Nebraska.

ACC 50TH ANNIVERSARY TEAM

Maryland placed six members on the ACC 50th Anniversary Team as announced in August 2002. All from teams in the 1990s, Maryland representatives were Colleen Hurley, Nicole Lantagne, Sherry Smith, Eden Kroeger, Elizabeth Efron and Daune Koester. Under the guidance of head coach Janice Kruger (who enters her 18th season at Maryland in 2005), the Terrapins won ACC titles in 1990, 1996, 2003 and 2004 and a regular-season title in 1997. Maryland has earned six NCAA Tournament berths and in 1997 became the eighth Division I volleyball team in history to record a perfect regular season (25-0).

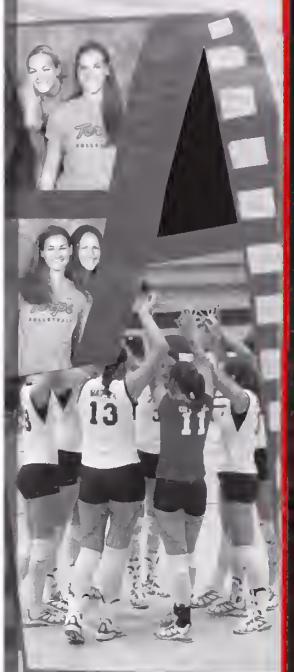
The Atlantic Coast Conference will not hold a volleyball tournament, and will instead crown its champion following the double round-robin regular-season schedule.



"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

FEAR THE TURTLE

2005 MARYLAND VOLLEYBALL

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 76 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991. Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

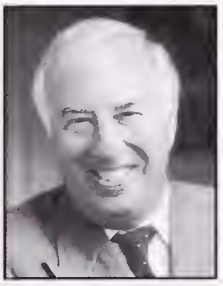
In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report rankings. Maryland now has 76 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic Region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the only undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report–business and engineering–both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 17) and the College of Education (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.



DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
SEVENTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 12TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow has just completed the 11th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 11 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships and graduated its student athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored in December, 2004, by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics." She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 11 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $53 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student-athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team has appeared in 11 of the la 12 NCAA Tournaments, one of only six schools to do so.
- Women's basketball also won its way to the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 20(advancing to the second round.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship a played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 3(victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 1 win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's D 2004.

  Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Champio ship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Oh State and Maryland).
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Labor tory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics in 2004, based on comprehensive crite such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competiti excellence.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the ne women's basketball coach. In her third season at the helm, her team drew more tha 17,243 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., wl guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001 and continues to be Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championshi from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium ar practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it to priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athle department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.

- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrap athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 11 years, Yo says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistent inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools." to work hard and smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we plac upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the on known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Ye in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketb (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being high organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debb Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be a excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and Universi of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and th University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Sai Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and huma behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recent stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrati team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit th we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members wh faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, ar the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrif President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institutio He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundatic for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Don Pearman (right) works with the women's volleyball team.

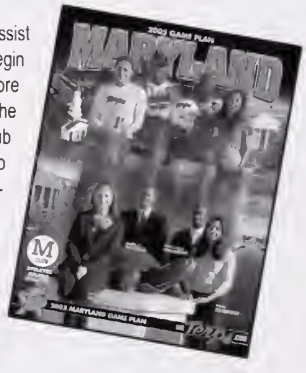
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Depar ment of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity spo and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. Th S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leade ship skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete imag on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presenta tions, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and socia responsibilities

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to sup port the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the Nationa Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committe to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cos of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.
